"Uncle Wiggily and the Jumping Cow." By HOWARD, B. GARIS.

THELE WIGGILY LONGEARS, the nice old rabbit gentleman started out from his hollow stump hungalow one day to take a walk. He hopped ever the fields and through the woods wondering whether or not be might meet with an adventure, when, after a little while, he curse to the House that Jack Built.

And there, micely wrapped up in a bag, the bunny uncle saw the malt that lay in the House that Jack Builf. Malt, you know, in a sort of floor, out of Which they make buckwheat caken.

"My goodness" exclaimed Uncle Wig-gily, as he scraighed his pink, twinkling nose. "I did not think I had come this far."

He stood in front of the House that Jack Shilt, wondering whether or not be our the not go in and say "howly do," when he saw coming out of the house the rat that ale the mait, and the dos that worsied the cat that taught the rat that ale the mait that lay is the House that

"Well, this is very strained said the which is the beginning away!" And indeed they were. For the cat was chasing the cat raid the cal was chasing firer its own hair and then, all of a sudden, out came store Geosc learnelf.

"Oh have you seen her, Uncle Wiggily, bringing his alreity to a steel shout her" worried the criticaled hors, don't you?" asked the hung uncle. "She's the one, you know, it at beed the dog that worried the cat that might the rait that ate the malt that is in the House that lack Built." "No, don't mean that cow," answered the still it in the House that lack Built." "No, don't mean that cow," answered so Mother Goose. "I mean the jumping you eve saw. She jumps over all the found. is called the American Woman's League for Self-Defence.
Its motto is: American Women First.
Its object is to educate our women to the highest standard of health, purity, efficiency, proficiency, self-reliance, to take the place of husbands and fathers when necessity requires it. Its platform is non-political, non-color and non-creed.
Its founders are Miss Ida Elisworth Lowber and Mrs. E. Vandercook-Browns its advisor is Mrs. Lee G. Beardman and its secretary Miss Ida Vera Simonton.

and its secretary Miss Ida Vera Simonton.

Here is what one of its members has to say of the league, speaking of what war has taught woman:

"It proves primarily that women must depend largely upon themselves for adequate protection. It show coinclusively that governments, especially in cases of invasion, are powerless to protect their women while their fighting men are at the front.

"It demonstrates that the women themselves are no match for the unhealthy local rabble that—unable to insist—plunder and pillage when opportunity offers. It is a well known fact that weeks of prolonged hardships foster a mental recklessness that destroys all decent sense of consideration and almormalism precludes the betterminded in an invading army from sheldling women from its own rampant self.

Woman Cannot Rely Loss Man.

Woman Cannot Rely Upon Man. Woman tannot Rely Upon Man.

"Clearly woman cannot rely upon man to save her in war time; she must find her defence, as she finds her danger, solely within herself. This emphasizes the necessity for the 'weaker sex' becoming, not the 'stronger,' but a strong sex' Surely, if it comes to finalities, a quick, clean, henorable death from a well-almed builet is preferable to the lingering horror which comes of considering one's self limately helpless.

This organization positively is not for aggression, but for projection. It is for repulsion in case of attack.

Eight women out of ten who believe themselves to be invalids or semi-invalids would unquestionably be cored were they to identify themselves with this Woman's League of Preparedness. More than three-fourths of the allment's which afflict wemen are caused by tack of interested thoughts, lack of an alertness of mind, lack of exercise of all the mental and physical organs of the human being inertness, an unfocused mind, nimbers longings, lung cells going to waste through lack of growing soggy through lack of proper exercise—these things are the disease producers. The Woman's League for Self-Protection, if it did nothing cles, would prepare her for health and usefulness and activity.
